DECOYS FOR THIEVES.

TWO BOND ROBBERS ARRESTED AND $30,000 RECOV-RRED-AN EXCITING CHASE AND POSSIBLY A CLUE

TO THE COLVOCORESSES MURDER. Police Inspector Dilks was informed, on Monday last, that one of the most daring thieves known to the police was about to offer for sale United States bonds worth many thousand deliars to an unknown man who lived at No. 41 Carmine-st., in this city. He at once related the intelligence to Superintendent Matsell, who then consulted with Capt. Irving of the Detective Squad in relation to the measures to be taken to arrest the criminal. Capt. Irving suggested that the designated house should be watched day and night by officers, who, If they saw any well-known thief enter its doors, should at once arrest the man. Detectives Tully and Dilks were the first officers assigned to this duty. On reaching the house they found that it was inhabited by a man who now calls himself Dr. J. C. Harrison," but who was formerly known as Dr. George M. Seneca, probably his real name. The house was watched all Monday night and until boon, yesterday, before the task of the officers was accom-plished. They had almost given up the hope of making any arrest, when they saw a tall, thick-set man enter a bailway, from which a short statrway leads to the apartments of Dr. Harrison, on the first floor of the house. Neither of the detectives identified the stranger as a thief known to them, and for a moment both were in doubt whether to enter the suspected house or not. The stranger was evidently a very strong man, and if a thief, would undoubtedly make a desperate resistance to arrest. At this moment Detective Murphy of the Twentieth Precinct passed by. Detective Tully claimed his assistance, and all the officers entered the house. On entering the room occupied by Dr. Harrison the officers saw him about giving a chair to the stranger. The strange man turned about and faced the officers as they entered the room. Both the detectives instantly recognized him as James Brady, an escaped convict and a burgiar, having the reputation among his fellows of Detective Tully, addressing both men, said that he was a police officer, and that he arrested them on a charge of having in their possession stolen bonds. Harrison and Brady instantly replied that the charge was false, and that they were perfectly willing to go to Police Headquarters and meet their accusers. Detective Tully said that before leaving the house he would search their clothes to see if they had any of the papers which they were charged with having stoten. Harrison at once abmitted himself to the search of the officers, who found nothing whatever of value in his pockets. Detective Tully then turned toward Brady and told him to open his coat. Brady replied that they had ano right to search him ustil they reached Police Headquarters, and that be would not submit to such an insult. The officers put out their hands to seize him, when he suddenly sprang past them and leaped through an open window to the street beneath, a distance of at least ten feet. He fell upon his back, but quickly springing to his feet fied with great speed down Carmine-st. and turned into Bedford-st. Detectives Tully and Dilks instantly leaped into the street after the escaped prisoner, and were severely hurt by the fall. They then pursued Brady, drawing their revolvers from pockets as they ran, and gaining upon him shouted to him that they would shoot him unless he surrendered. He did not heed the threat, and endeavored to increase the distance between the officers and him self. Carmine-st, was crowded with pedestrians and the officers dared not fire their revolvers for fear that the bullets might miss Brady and strike some one else. On turning into Bedford-st., through which there were very few persons walking, the officers fired at Brady. The bullets missed him, and he defiantly kept on in his flight. The detectives then fired shot after shot from the revolvers at the fleeing man, but none of the bullets struck him, the rapidity of the pursuit interfering with the officers' aim. On reaching Leroy-st., Brady turned out of Bedford and fled down that street. The officers were close behind him, however, and he saw that in a few moments more they would catch up with him. Reaching No. 30 Leroy-st., occupied by Joseph H. Smith, he ran phot the yard and jumped into the basement through a window. Both officers fleat a thin at this moment, but the bullets again missed their mark. The officers then leaped into the room in pursuit. As Detective Tully sprang through the window he naw lirady, who was standing in the middle of the room, draw a bundle of papers from his coat pecket, and throw it underneath a sofa. Brady then ran into the back basement. The officers followed him and found him in the kitchen. They sprang toward him, and seized his right hand, with which he was apparently trying to pull a revolver from his coat pecket. The hammer of the weapon had become entangled in the linting of his coat pocket, however, and he was unable to draw it. In another pecket of his coat the officers found another revolver which, like the first, had every one of its chambers loaded. The efficers, after disarming their prisoner, went into the front room, and, on searching beneath the sofa, found the package which Brady had thrown away. On opening it they found that it consisted of $30,000 worth of U. B. bonds.

The following is a list of the bonds, their numbers, and bullets missed him, and he defiantly kept on in B. bonds.

Brasy, the prisoner, is a man of about 32 years of age, and was born in Troy. He has frequently been arrested for burgisry, and has served a term in the State Prison.

Two years ago he was arrested and convicted of having broken into the store of J. Gall, an optician, at No. 21 Union-square, and stolen goods worth $5,000. He was sentenced to 5 years imprisonment, and was sent to the sentenced to 5 years imprisonment, and was sent to the State Prison at Auburn. From that prison be escaped in August last with the notorious bank robber, Dan Noble, and several other desperate thieves. He has afface been at liberty. If he escape conviction on the charge of having stolen the bonds, he will be sent back to Auburn to serve out the remaining 2 years of his sentence of imprisonment. The detectives took Brady and Harrison to Police Headquarters, before Superinfendent Matseil. Both the prisoners dealed any knowledge of the ownership of the bonds. The prisoners will be taken before Justice Högan at the froms Police Court to-day. The police hope that a publication of the finding of the bonds may secure evidence from their owners of the guilt of the prisoners.

SUSFECTED CAR THIEVES. SUSPECTED CAR THIEVES.

While watching the cars at Fulton Ferry, yesterday, Detective Dusenberry of Police Headquarters saw James Deney, anas Watson, an alleged professional pickpocket, standing, with a supposed confederate, on the rear platform of a Belt line car. Deney had an overcoat thrown across his left arm in the manmer usual with thieves when desirous of concealing the motions of their hands, and he, with his supposed confederate, seemed to be scrutinizing the passengers with federate, seemed to be scrutinizing the passengers with evil intent. The detective arrested Deney, but the other escaped. The prisoner was soon afterward arraigned before Police-Justice Dowling as the Tombs Police Court and committed, despite the efforts of counsel, for examination under the new law which authorizes the arrest and imprisonment for 100 days, as hard labor, of any professional thief who may be found in any public conveyance or place of assemblage. The detective stated that he was acting under orders from Capt. Irving, who had instructed his officers to arrest all known thieves in conformity with the law.

DUTCH HEINRICHS FEIGNING INSANITY. A communication was received yesterday, at the Department of Charities and Correction, from Dr. Parsons, Resident Physician at the Ward's Island Lunatic Asylum, to the effect that Henry Newman, better known as "Dutch Henrichs," confined there as a luna-tic is not and never has been insane. Newman was tried and convicted March 30, 1872, for the robbery of bonds from Henry M. Baker, banker at No. 41 Cedar-st., and was sentenced to the State Prison for 10 years. On a writ of error, a new trial was granted on [November 18, 1872, and Newman was removed from Sing Sing prison to the Tombs. Soon after he began to conduct himself so strangely that Dr. Nealis, the Tombs physician, pronounced him insane. When Dr. Parsons's communication was made known to the District-Attorney, an officer was immediately sent to Ward's Island with a bench warrant for the removal of Newman from the Asylum to

AFFRAY AT A PIC-NIC. Thomas O'Hara, age 18, of No. 57 Walcottat., Brooklyn, went to a pic-nie in Pope's Park Monday evening, with a young girl, who soon became the cause of a dispute between O'Hara and a roffian named The quarrel resulted in blows, and Maguire drew a dirk knife and stabbed O'Hara in the abdomen. The accallant immediately fied, and the wounded man endeavored to walk home. He had gone as far as Hamilton-ave., when he falloted from loss of blood, and was afterward found lying insensible upon the sidewalk by Officer Cassidy of the Third Sub-Prechet, who took him to the Station-House-An examination was made, and the wound-found to be of a dangerous and probably fatal nature. He was then removed to the Long Island College Hospital, where he now her in a critical condition. The police succeeded yesterday in arresting Maguire, who was secreted in a shadty in Thirty-sixth-st., near Fourthave., New-York.

MUNICIPAL CONSULTATIONS—THE NOMINATIONS FOR POLICE JUSTICES-THE FIRE MARSHAL'S REPORT. The new Chamberlain, George W. Lane, alled, yesterday, on the Mayor, accompanied by Robert Lenox Kennedy, President of the Bank of Commerce, and had a long interview with him. Later, accompanied by Controller Green, Chamberlain Lane called on the former Chamberlain, Mr. Palmer, and held a consultation with him relative to the condition of the city's funds. Mr. Lane will enter at once upon the duties of his position. It is said that the Bank of Commerce is to be one of the four banks to be designated as repositories for the city and county funds. The Merchants' National Bank was officially designated, last night, by the Mayor and Chamberlain, as a depository for city and ec

The meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Thursday is anxiously looked forward to, as it is believed by some of the politicians that the Mayor will send in some of his nominations for Police Justices. There are others, however, who assert in the most confident manner that the Mayor will send in no names of nominees until he is ready to neminate all. The Mayor preserves a discreet silence on the subject, and says that he will send in his nominations when he is satisfied that he has the proper men for the positions. The crowd of political mendicants at Police Head quarters was large and noisy, yesterday, although two doormen succeeded in keeping the eager place-hunters outside the railing of the treasurer's ante-room, but they still blocked up the ballway and all approaches to the rooms of the Board. The crowd was of a decidedly motley character, embracing men well-known throughout the city, mingled with ward politicians who are noted only in a small circle of henchmen, with others lower yet in the political and social scale. Most of applicants were anxious to be appointed patrolmen or surgeons. Among those who for various purposes sought interviews with the Commissioners or Superintendent were Gen Henry A. Barnum, Myer Stern, L. J. Phillips, James O'Brien, Aldermen McCafferty, Cooper, Lysaght, Reilly, Monheimer, and Flanagan. Jerome Buck, Henry W. Genet, John T. Agnew, Dock Commissioner Kane, ex-Coroner Flynn, Henry Leask, John Coster, James Mc Laren, Martin Brown, G. S. McWatters, and Mr. Powell, who is chairman of a committee of colored people of this city commissioned to wait on Mr. Russell to ascertain ow the Police Board stood relative to the appointment of colored citizens on the force. What was said during the interview is not made public, but Mr. Powell expressed himself perfectly satisfied with the result and felt confident that the spirit of the Civil Rights law would have a fair recognition by the Board. INSPECTION OF TENEMENTS.

Sanitary Superintendent Janes reported yesterday to the Board of Health that the sanitary inspectors had been examining Jenement houses during the previous week. They had inspected 1,384 houses, of which 175 were found to be in a bad sanitary condition. The causes of complaint were dirty cellars, flithy walls and ceilings, defective waste pipes, and missauces of a minor character. Although flithy tenements are always to be found in certain portions of the city, it was the united testimony of the inspectors that the general condition of the tenement houses in each district is better this Spring than it has usually been at this season of the year. During the months of April and May 333 occupied cellars had been vacated as dwellings. A sanitary inspector reported that the process of rendering fat at the factory of the New-York Rendering Company, at the foot of West Thirty-mith-st., was done in a very satisfactory manner, very little odor being perceptible. Commissioner Vanderpoel said that he could not understand why it was that on some days the odor from the factory was very offensive and on other days not even perceptible. The Sanitary Committee were instructed to examine the factory; to report its condition, and also to ascertain whether another site cannot be procured for the rendering boat. been examining Jenement houses during the previous the rendering boat.

THE WRECKED ATLANTIC BANK.

A meeting of the depositors in the Atlantic National Bank was held at the office of Libby & Clark yesterday afternoon. About 20 persons were present, ameng whom were W. H. Libby, W. C. Martin, Erastus Cooke, and Allen H. Beebe. Mr. Cooke presided. The first proceeding was the presentation by Mr. Libby of a statement, of which the following is a summary:

all the liabilities. The disputed claims are for the differ-ence between the amount of loans and the market value dued between the amount of loans and the market value of the collaterals for the same. THE MAY ANNIVERSARIES. The 57th anniversary of the New-York Sunday-school Missionary Union took place yesterday after noon. The various schools of the Union, which were arranged in 27 divisions, for more convenient gathering, assembled at 2 p. w. in the various churches. The exercises of the afternoon were of an interesting nature, comprising addresses by different gentiemen interested in Sunday-school work and the singing of the usual anniversary hymns by the scholars, at the close of which the children returned to their respective school-rooms, where a goodly supply of refreshments had been pre pared for their enjoyment. The regular annual meeting of the teachers and other workers in the schools took place in the evening in the Broadway Tabernacie, at Sixth-ave, and Thirty-fourth-st. Owing to the severe illness of the President of the Union, ex-Chancellor Isaac Ferris, the Rev. William Ormiston, D. D., presided. The exercises included an address of welcome by Dr. Ormiston, who spoke of the importance of Sunday schools, not only as feeders of the churches, but as re schools, not only as feeders of the churches, but as refining, elevating influences in the community; a second address by the Rev. Dr. Siephen H. Tyng, jr., on "Piety in Teachers as-the Secret of Sunday-school Success;" and addresses by the Rev. A. D. Vall, on "The Reflex Influence of his Work on the Teacher," and by the Rev. Wm. M. Taylor, D. D., concerning "The Demands of the Sanday-schools for the Best Talent of the Church." Under the management of a Committee composed of E. R. Olin, Chairman, J. L. Hastie, Secretary: J. C. Baxter, G. W. Hilman, and J. C. Overhiser, the Baptist Sunday-school Union vesterday celebrated its thirteenth anniversary. The schools met at 2 p. m., 12 churches being represented. The exercises for the afternoon in these churches consisted of singing and addresses. In the evening the public meeting of the Missionary Union of the Baptist Association was held in the Culvary Baptist Church in West Twenty-third-st, The Rev. J. F. Elder, the Rev. George H. Hepworth, and the Rev. George H. Andrews, in the absence of the Rev. Wayland Hoyt, made remarks.

The second anniversary banguet and reunion of the Veteran Association of the 9th Regiment was held at the armory of the regiment in Twenty-sixth-st, between Seventh and Eighth-aves., last evening. About so of the veterans assembled and at 230 p. m. marched into the banguet half, headed by their colonel, Gen. John Hendrickson. The following toasts were drunk amnd hearty good fellowship:

"The President of the United States," responded to by Major Charles S. Strong; "The 5th Regiment, National Guard," by Co. Hincheock; "Our old commanders," by ex-Col. H. H. Van Buren; "The Army and Navy," by Capt. Jno. W. Davis; "The day we celebrate," by Lient. The latter was carried to the hospital, and for two weeks suffered the usual agony of pain. Edmund E. THE CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

EVILS OF PISTOL-CARRYING-MARITAL DISCORDS. The Court of Oyer and Terminer yesterday transacted the usual amount of business, Judge Davis presiding, and Mr. Russell appearing for the District-Attorney. The first case tried was that of Charles Williams, who was charged with felonious assault and battery, and acquitted without the jury's leaving their seats. Jas. D. McClelland defended him, John H. Worthington was placed on trial for firing a pistol at Wm. McMichael, and McMichael having been called to testify against him showed so much aversion to testifying that all noticed it. At last he said he did not know whether the accused fired the shot at him or not; the facts would show that Warthington was a monomaniac, who believed his life to be in continual danger from some of his best friends. John O. Mott, who was assigned to the defense of the prisoner, consented that a verdict of not guilty, on the ground of nsanity, should be entered. Judge Davis then remanded the prisoner until an investigation could be made as to his present condition. Wm. Wichterieb, a German, was arraigned for assault and battery on his wife. Wichterich is an extremely eculiar looking man, being only four feet high, with a and batter) peculiar looking man, being only four feet high, with a very large head, a very long body, and very short legs. Mrs. Wichterich, when put on the witness stand, gave her testimeny against her husband in an hysterical manner, to the effect that he took a knife and stabbed her with it in the head. She showed 4he place of the wound, which was covered with plaster. The prisoner testified that the wound was indicted by the woman herself; that she was continually drunk, and had fits when in liquor; he did not strike her at all. Several witnesses were called by Bobert Laird, who defonded the prisoner, to prove the good character of the complainant, who, it was said, had married the prisoner at a day's notice. The daughter of Mrs. Wichterich, a precedous child of 10 years, swore that the prisoner had struck her mother with a knife; that he was a little drunk at the time, but that her mother was not drunk at all. The jury rendered a verdict of acquittal.

A DISPUTE ABOUT PARTNERSHIP. A controversy between former partners, John Keck and his son being plaintiff and John Werder de-fendant, has just been settled in Part I. of the Superior Court, before Judge Van Verst, after a legal fight of several days. Mr. Keck sued for damages for alleged bad faith and misrepresentation, his grievance being, as he alleges, that he was induced to enter into copartnership with Werder in the flour business, on an agreement by the latter to assign and put into the firm $15,000 in good ollectable debts or claims. The debts turned out bad, collectable debts or claims. The debts turned out had, and the plaintiff obtained an injunction restraining Werder from doing any business. Later, Mr. Keck rot a receiver and referee appointed. Special issues were finally sent to be tried before a jury, and just a year ago, after 10 or 12 days of fruitiess investigation, the jury disagreed. This is the second trial, and yesterday the jury found in the plaintiff's favor after nice days of trial, giving him one-half the amount of the claim—$6,255. Chauncey Shaffer for plaintiff; ex-Recorder Smith for defendant.

Frederick Phillips, Secretary of Collector Arthur, says that the position of Storekeeper of the Port, recognized by the fundamental Tariff laws, has heretofore been connected ex officio with the Third Division. This position, made vacant by the appointment of Deputy Collector James to the Post-Office, has been filled by the appointment of John R. Lydecker as Special Deputy Collector. Mr. Lydecker will hereafter have Deputy Collector. Mr. Lydecker will hereafter have supervision, as Storekeeper of the Port, of the Third and Fifth Divisions. The consolidation was made by the Treasury Department at Washington, at the special request of Collector Arthur. Mr. Lydecker has had many years' experience in the Custom-house. He first entered the Custom-house as a clerk at $600 a year ander Mr. Bedfield in 1833. Col. Burt has been confirmed as Special Deputy Naval Officer, and James L. Benedict as Special Deputy Surveyor.

VELLOW JACK'S TRAVELS. The yellow fever patient, Christian Leuker, whose case was mentioned in THE TRIBUNE yesterday, is doing well, and will probably recover. No further cases have arrived, and it is hoped that the fever will be confined to the single case reported. The vessels arriv ing from Rio de Janeiro are greatly dreaded by the Quarantine officers, as it is there that the pestilence is quarantine oncers, as it is there that the pestilence is raging in its mostlfcarful form, and the vessels from that port are watched and inspected with the utmost vigitance. Owing to the foresight of merchants, the importation for the season from Rio has, in large part, been finished, for it is in merchandise that the disease is most frequently transmitted.

THE FUNERAL OF JAMES W. WALLACK. At the Church of the Transfiguration,-"the little church around the corner "-yesterday, at 11 o'clock, the funeral of the late James W. Wallack was attended by a very large concourse of loving friends and of admirers of the excellent and distinguished actor. The burial service of the Church of England was per-formed over the remains, by the Rev. Dr. Houghton. The auditory included very many members of the dramutic profession, as well as numerous representatives of the other learned professions, and many persons of distinguished social rank. It was noticed-and it of distinguished social rank. It was noticed—and it seems worthy lof record—that the gathering of worth, talent, and renown was very unusual, at the bier of an actor; and it was rightly accepted as a testimony to the truth that James W. Wallack enjoyed, to an extraordinary extent, the affectionate respect of the best minds in this community. No remarks were made by the clergyman, incidental to the ceremony. The remains were not viewed. A long train of mourners followed to the last reating place of the deceased, in Greenwood Cemetery. The day was one of uncommon beauty and seronity, and the scene at the grave was deeply affecting, in its expression of deep love and perfect peace.

few smaller establishments which have given in to the eight-hour rule, and more where the demand has been met with refusal. The total number of men now on strike cannot exceed 350, and the movement thus far has not scriously shaken the trade.

The journeymen painters held a largely attended mass meeting last evening in the court-room at Twenty-second-st. and Seventh-ave. James Connolly was appointed Chairman. He spoke at length of the necessity of legislation against the erection of insecure scandols by master painters. For the past five rears the painters organizations of New-York have lost on an average five members per year by the criminal carelessness of employers. After speeches by Mr. McMackin of Painters' Lodge No. 4. Theodore H. Banks, and others, resolutions were passed which reprobated the lightness with which human life is now estimated in the commercial system, and ordered the appointment of a Committee of five to present to the State Legislature, through the Governor, a petition demanding the passage of a law to regulate the matter of scaffoldings, and this Committee was empowered to bring suits for damages againsts all master painters in whose employ lives were lost by weak scaffolds. John McMackin, Edward Corrigan. Theo. H. Banks, George Blair, and Theo. E. Tomlinson were appointed as such Committee.
